Democrats Win Council, School Board Control

Alarm System Knocked Out By Violent Electrical Storm

Lightning, wind and rain raised havoc during the height of yesterday's early morning electrical storm as they knocked out the fire alarm system, interrupted phone service and flooded streets throughout Pottstown.

A lightning bolt striking somewhere near borough hall left the town without fire alarm service for more than two hours yesterday morning. It blew out all the fuses controlling five of the town's alarm circuits.

Borough electrician William H. Price replaced fuses in both the control board at borough hall and in an outside box to restore service by 8 o'clock in the morning.

Neither Price nor Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer could recall a previous occasion when all circuits were knocked out by lightning or were out of service at the same time.

"It must have struck either the tower of the Philadelphia Fire company, the flag pole at the Bell Telephone building, or the radio antenna on the borough hall to do such a complete job," Price said yesterday.

While the borough was without fire alarm service, 296 telephones throughout the area were out of service. 134 in Pottstown alone.

According to Willard L. Kline, manager of the Bell Telephone office, the wind and rain were more responsible for the interrupted service than the lightning.

"There were scattered lines down throughout our territory," Kline remarked. "Crews are working on them now and all the phones will be back in service by tonight. The wind and rain did more damage than the lightning by knocking down the lines."

Electrical service to homes was not interrupted. The Philadelphia Electric company reported only one transformer, near Parkerford, was out of service. Burned out fuses were replaced to put it back in service almost immediately.

Voters Wade to Polls

Eighth ward voters like Mrs. John Kirkhoff, 717 North Charlotte street, found it necessary to wade through a flood of water to reach the polls. Republican leader William J. Boden called Borough Manager Dow I. Sears who had Earl Pottelger, street foreman, correct the condition by ditching the water away and spreading fresh stone on the street. Located in the old North End Quilt club building, sticky doors, water, and a sea of mud made the eighth ward polling place hidden at Spruce and Gay streets the worst in the borough.

Ward Offices Split Between Parties; GOP Directors Out

Pottstown Democrats swept back into power in a torrid general election yesterday when they captured control of both borough council and the school board.

The Democrats split even with the Republicans contests for councilmanic posts, each party electing five. But the Democrats had six holdover members to the Republicans' four, so that the Democrats now hold an 11 to 9 majority in the borough hall chamber.

The Democratic victory was more clean cut in the election of school directors. The vote of all three candidates into office in a close fight and now have a 5 to 2 edge in the voting. Two Republicans and two Democrats are holdover members of the school board.

A heavy vote was registered throughout the borough. Early morning showers, failed to dampen the ardor of the electorate and almost 75 percent of the registered voters cast ballots. Many of the ballots were split, delaying the count in some wards until early this morning.

The Republicans elected councilmen in the West, Second, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards. Closest contest was in the West where Republican Earl R. Strangle, a Pottstown High school teacher, defeated his Democratic opponent, Brooke Fryer, by two votes.

The three Democratic candidates for the school board won a victory that left no doubt. Victor Roberts, local attorney, led the ticket with 3275 votes. He had a plurality of 208 votes over his closest Republican opponent, Elmer E. Saylor, who topped his ticket.

Earl J. Reidenouer, a Democrat whose father was secretary of the Pottstown school board for several decades, ran second on his ticket, with H. Clifford Creswell third. Creswell had a majority of 97 votes over Saylor.

Ralph P. Holloway, present secretary of the board, stood second in the Republican column, while Lawrence E. Orgill, school board president, trailed the field.

The vote was:

Roberts (D)	3275
Reidenouer (D)	3228
Creswell (D)	3164
Saylor (R)	3067
Holloway (R)	2948
Orgill (R)	2871

The Republican school board candidates carried only two wards, the Seventh and Eighth. Holloway ran second in his home ward, the Fifth, while Saylor topped the ticket in the Seventh.

Harold W. Eppheimer, Republican, retained his position as borough auditor by defeating Gurney Biehl, Democrat, by 3278 to 2976 votes.

While contests for school directors seemed to engage voters' interest, the battles for councilmanic posts were heated. There were few lopsided victories.

Strangle's election was the closest and slightly surprising in a ward where the county Republican candidates won by margins of 30 votes.

In the second ward, Ellington B. Heck, the Republican incumbent councilman, defeated Warren B. Endy, Democrat, by 254 to 240.

The Third ward saw Harry E. Yergey, present Republican councilman, ousted by Democrat George Paul Ruyak. Ruyak had a 24-vote majority. The vote was Ruyak, 230; Yergey, 206.

Harold A. Sparr, a newcomer in politics, was a victor for the Democrats in the Fourth ward when he defeated Patrick J. Ciaula, Republican, by 135 to 91.

In the Fifth ward, Democrat Daniel C. Kern defeated Herbert A. Gross, Republican, by 311 to 278.

Mahlon F. Frick, Republican, defeated Nathan P. Hoffman, Democrat, in the Sixth ward by 545 to 381. Frick is an incumbent.

NLRB Drops Three Cases To Reverse Lewis, Murray

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board today threw out three cases involving unions of John L. Lewis and Philip Murray in its first move to enforce the non-Communist oath requirement of the Taft-Hartley act in bargaining elections.

The unions whose pending cases were dismissed were: Lewis' United Construction Workers, Murray's Steelworkers and the CIO-Furniture Workers.

Deadline for filing of the affidavits disavowing Communism by union officers—one of the prerequisites for use of the board's machinery by a union—was the past Friday night. The hour passed without compliance by Lewis, Murray, or the Furniture Workers.

Murray, who heads the CIO as well as the Steelworkers, beat the deadline with a legal thrust at the board, however. The Steelworkers challenged the NLRB's right to throw out any cases which had been pending before the Taft-Hartley act became operative Aug. 22.

Counsel for Murray contested the constitutionality of the law's provision that union officers must swear they're not Communists before their unions may have access to the government agency.

Eugene Cotton, assistant counsel for the Steelworkers, told reporters that a court test certainly would follow.

In addition to the non-Communist affidavits, unions are required to submit financial and detailed organizational data to the labor department in order to bring cases into the NLRB or to petition for elections.

It was the latter type of case which the board dismissed today for the three unions. The Lewis union involved was the United Construction Workers headed by A. D. Lewis, brother of the United Mine Workers' president.

The cases thrown out by the NLRB involved these three companies:

1. Elite-Form Corset company, Inc. Sharon, Pa., involving about 50 employees and the CIO-Steelworkers.
2. Tennessee Chair company, Inc. Elizabethton, Tenn., in which the Mine Workers' subsidiary, the United Construction Workers, had sought an election among 65 employees.

Philadelphia Republican Wins by 92,000 Votes; Fine Claims Judgeship

By The Associated Press

Republicans retained a Superior court judgeship and control of Philadelphia and Harrisburg, but lost mayoralty races at Allentown and Erie in yesterday's municipal elections.

These were the highlights of Pennsylvania's off-year vote:

Judge John S. Fine of Luzerne county claimed election to a full term on the Superior court as returns from 1989 of the state's 8257 precincts gave him 419,234 votes to 274,218 for his Democratic opponent, Judge Ivan J. McKenrick of Cambria county.

In Philadelphia, Mayor Bernard Samuel swept to victory over Democrat Richardson Dilworth by 92,000 votes. GOP City Chairman David W. Harris hailed the result as "but a forerunner of 1948 for the election of a Republican president."

Republican Claude R. Robins, backed by GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, won election as mayor of Harrisburg, defeating Democrat John E. Peters 20,211 to 17,236.

Food Supplies In U. S. Viewed At Low Level

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Food supplies on the American homefront will shrink even lower in 1948, the Agriculture department predicted today as Administration and congressional leaders studied the problem of helping feed Europe in the months ahead.

The department said, too, that retail food prices in this country will remain high for most of next year.

With less than two weeks to go before Congress reconvenes Nov. 17, warnings of a critical world food shortage came from several sources.

Sir John Boyd Orr, director general of the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization, reported that world supplies of bread cereals are 10,000,000 tons short of the amount needed to maintain even the present meager rations in many lands.

This figure compares with the 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 tons of grain which he said the American food-

John B. Hartenstine Is Elected President Of Kiwanis Club

John B. Hartenstine Jr., was elected president of the Pottstown Kiwanis club for 1948 at a business meeting held last night at the Elks home.

Elected without opposition, he succeeds Dr. Karl R. Stone, who took charge of last night's election.

Other new officers include Harry W. Burdian, first vice president; A. Ralph Thomas, second vice president; and Ammon G. Romuch, treasurer.

The only opposition was in the office of second vice president, where the other candidates were William H. Curtis and Raymond Dettler.

The board of directors, who will serve for three years, include Carson C. Potter, William A. Shaner, and Stanley I. Davenport.

The new Kiwanis leaders will take office at the beginning of 1948.

The other feature of last night's meeting was a talk by Daniel A. Baese, owner of the Boyertown Super Drug store, who told the 80 members present some of his methods of business success.

Thomas J. Murphy, Veteran Horseman, Dies at Limerick

Thomas J. Murphy, 71, prominent area horseman and owner of the Coronado Dairy farms and riding academy, Limerick, died at 9 o'clock last night at his home on the farms.

Death followed a period of failing general health and a critical illness of six days.

A native of County Mayo, Ireland, Mr. Murphy came to this country in 1898. He settled first in Phoenixville, and began to follow his interest in training horses.

For several years he drove one of the fancy horse carriages for the personal use of John Wanamaker, pioneer Philadelphia merchant. Later he drove for Col. John Morrell, wealthy former State assemblyman, at Colonel Morrell's Main Line home.

Mr. Murphy also trained riding horses and polo ponies for sportsmen from Philadelphia to Maine.

About 30 years ago, Mr. Murphy started the dairy farm business, moving to Limerick 20 years ago. Under his direction the farms expanded until they covered 165 acres with a herd of 26 cows and a string of 12 riding horses.

He was an active member of St. Clair's Roman Catholic church, Linfield, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Philadelphia, and of the Inter-State Dairyman's association and the Pennsylvania Farm bureau.

Surviving are his wife, Bessie (Kilroy) Murphy, whom he married 41 years ago, and five children: Francis X., 86 West Fifth street; John J., 531 Beech street; Martin M. and Mary Murphy, at home; and Margaret, wife of Walter Yarnall, Limerick.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Jennie Ford, Philadelphia, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night.

Reading Democrats Regain Power As Stump Is Unseated as Mayor

READING, Nov. 5—Democrat John F. Davis defeated Socialist incumbent Mayor J. Henry Stump by a scant 214 votes yesterday, complete unofficial returns early this morning indicated.

The vote was Davis, 11,588; Stump, 11,374.

Republican candidate Charles R. McCann received only 8440 in Reading.

Davis' victory returned this city into Democratic hands after a lapse of four years.

Meanwhile, Berks county went Democratic by a wide majority, maintaining the edge they have held for 93 years.

Stump, 68, the only Socialist mayor in the Commonwealth, was seeking his fourth term. He first was elected in 1931 and re-elected four years later. He was defeated in 1939 but regained the office in 1943.

His last tenure, however, was troubled by constant bickering with a Democratic-controlled city council.

Orphans court Judge Frederick A. Marx was returned for his fourth term, while Common Pleas court Judge H. Robert Mays won a third term.

The election was enlivened by charges of racketeering, while other political innuendoes—such as "inefficiency," "ineffectiveness," and "excessive taxes"—were heard in this election, as in those of other years.

Democrats won the other posts in Reading by comfortable pluralities. Unofficial returns in the major offices were:

City Councilmen—Arthur W. Froberg (R) 9970; Leroy S. Reinheimer (R) 9655; J. Clinton Bach (D) 11,852; Charles M. Stone (S) 11,972; Alfred E. Eckenrode (S) 9192; J. Gordon McLean (S) 9195.

City treasurer—John L. Hoch (D) 13,185; Raymond S. Hoises (D) 9320; Chester W. Stock R. 8592.

Students in William H. McCabe's Problems of Democracy class at the Pottstown Senior High school saw democracy in action at first-hand yesterday as they took up positions at the polls.

As a project each year, McCabe allows students from his classes to observe the voting procedures at the polls. After the elections they return to their classes to report on their observations.

Among the points suggested by their teacher, the students report on the number of workers, the number of cars, whether the voting is light or heavy, whether they were allowed inside the polls, and on comments passed during the day regarding the election.

There were 52 students divided among the wards and townships (Continued on Page Nine)

Borough's Greetings Go To 100-Year-Old Woman

Greetings from the borough were extended yesterday by Burgess William A. Griffith to Mrs. Lena Reif-snyder, of 23 West Second street, who celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary.

Burgess Griffith wrote: "On behalf of the citizens of Pottstown I wish to extend to you my heartfelt congratulations on your 100th birthday anniversary."

"Truly you have attained a goal in life's pathway which is given to few and I sincerely hope our God and Heavenly Father will give you needed strength to carry on so that you may continue to enjoy the good things which come in the light of life."

Spring City Girl Trips, Badly Hurt

Loretta Ammon, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ammon, 624 New street, Spring City, was in "fair condition" in Phoenixville hospital early this morning with a severe head injury sustained when she tripped over a knee-high wire on a lawn and stumbled into New street, striking the pavement on the left side of her head.

Hospital authorities said they were unable to move her for X-rays to determine if there was a skull fracture.

Loretta was coming home with Virginia Moses, 15, from the home of Virginia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moses. The two girls ran across the lawn of William Youngblood, on New street, and Loretta tripped on two strands of wire that supports two large trees about 25 feet apart.

Dr. Christian Moser, Spring City, examined the girl and immediately telephoned for a hospital ambulance.

ALMOST MISSED — BUT DIDN'T!

He Keeps 61-Year Record Intact

A voting record that stretched over 61 years without a miss almost came to an end yesterday when Pottstown enacted in the general election. Almost. But not quite.

The record belonged to Dr. J. Elmer Porter, veteran Democrat of 344 High street.

Dr. Porter, now 82 years old, voted at every election since he was 21 years old. He cast his first presidential ballot for Grover Cleveland, and has been voting the Democratic ticket ever since. He has been a delegate to many a Democratic national convention, where presidents were made.

Dr. Porter's long string of voting hung in the balance after an accident the past Sunday. Tripping while descending a flight of stairs, Dr. Porter fell heavily, was believed to have broken some ribs, but fortunately no bones were broken, but he was bruised severely. He was able to arise yesterday, soon had himself driven to the Third ward voting precinct on the premises of Lester R. Daub, 114 South Hanover street.

There at 2 o'clock, Dr. Porter cast his vote.

James McHenry, 276 Oak street, veteran Republican election official in the Eighth Ward, made "the poll" yesterday despite an attack of vertigo and nausea Monday night.

According to his wife McHenry, a retired Reading company conductor, suffers a similar attack at least once each year, usually during the Summer. He became so ill Monday night that it was necessary to summon his physician, Dr. T. E. Willis, to treat him.

Although McHenry was unable to give all service at the polls, John W. Guest Jr., 359 North Charlotte street, who is employed in the Register of Wills office in Norristown, substituted for him during the day.

Sharp-eyed voters in the Tenth ward noticed that Clinton H. Miller, Democratic candidate for councilman, was handing out vote-soliciting cards that had been printed in Reading! The cards were unprinted with a union label of a Reading shop.

Rain in the morning and clouds in the afternoon couldn't stop Pottstown voters from turning out to vote. There was a measure of activity at almost every polling place as young and old the well and a few in poor health, walked or rode to cast their ballot for local and county officers.

George P. Ruyak, Third ward Democratic candidate, carried votes to the polls at the Daub store all during the day.

Ruyak was the first to vote in his ward, while the oldest voter was A. B. Bentz, Cadwalader, of 361 High street.

Daub provided refreshments for members of the election board, who spent a good part of the day, gulping down soups, cookies, and cakes.

By way of contrast, Fourth ward voters came to the polling place at 432 High street slowly, with only 122 voting by late afternoon.

State Department Vows Fight Against Political Profiteers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (P)—The State department today declared that any governments, political parties, or groups which attempt to prolong human misery for political profit will meet with "unqualified opposition" from the United States.

The statement was made in a review of the development of the Marshall plan for European recovery. It did not name any government or party as attempting to make political profit out of human misery, but Russia and European Communist organizations have bitterly opposed the Marshall plan.

The review is a four-page document prepared by the department's public liaison branch. It is being distributed as the 15th of a series of "Foreign Affairs Outlines" sent to organizations throughout the country which have been working with the department on foreign affairs problems.

The paper entitled "The U. S. and European Recovery," reviews the work of 11 European nations which drew up a European self-help program on the basis of which the Truman Administration now is preparing final recommendations to Congress for an American program of aid to Europe.

It says the interest of the United States in European recovery arises primarily from the fact that "American security has traditionally been based on the kind of democratic Europe which is now in jeopardy."

"Further deterioration might be disastrous to Europe," the report declares. "The principles of law and justice, already widely attacked, might be finally swept away. The implications of such a loss would far surpass the common apprehensions over the possibility of 'Communist control.'"

"If not checked, the spread of chaotic conditions in Europe would lead to nothing less than the possibility and political restraint which are traditional to their continent. 'This would undo the work of centuries and would cause such damage as could be repaired only by further centuries of effort.'"

The report adds that "the overthrow of European Democracy" would require a complete review of America's international position and in time might "reduce the United States to cultural, political and economic isolation."

Waxey Gordon Held In Sale of Watches

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (P)—Irving (Waxey) Gordon, who rose to underworld prominence in the prohibition era, was described as "a relic of the past and dim age" today when arraigned in connection with the alleged sale of $40,000 worth of stolen wrist watches.

Wexler and two others were held without bail on charges of acting in concert in the receipt of stolen property. Two others were held in $25,000 bail each, charged with criminally receiving stolen property. All were arrested last night.

As the one-time gang chieftain stood in magistrate's court, a light brown hat and expensive topcoat matching his natty, brown suit, Assistant District Attorney Paul F. Reilly said:

"Wexler is one of the most notorious racketeers who ever operated in this country, a relic of the past and dim age."

Air Force's New 'Thunderjet' Ready to Fight

Streaching through the sky is the Air Force's new P-84 "Thunderjet" fighter plane which, it has been announced, is now "fully qualified for operational service," following the successful completion of firing tests of its six guns at Farmingdale, Long Island, N. Y. The plane reportedly fired 70,000 rounds of ammunition, with more than 75 percent of the rounds fired while the craft exceeded 500 miles an hour. This was a 50 percent faster rate of fire than in guns used in World War II aircraft.

Round-the-World Fliers Arrive in Anchorage

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 4 (P)—Their tiny planes bedecked with the printed flags of all the nations they have flown across, George Truman and Clifford Evans, flying around the world, landed here at 3:40 p. m. (PST) (6:40 p. m. Pottstown time) today, after a 300-mile flight from Naknek, Alaska.

A newly painted shield of the Alaska air command was the latest decoration. They left Naknek at noon.

Lieut. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding general of the Alaskan armed forces, was at Elmendorf field to greet them. They were accompanied by a B-17 of the Far Eastern Air Forces which has flown with them from Japan, and a Navy PBV.

Civic leaders planned a reception tonight. The two said they would telephone their wives at Washington, D. C. tomorrow. They left Teterboro, N. J., in their 100-horsepower planes Aug. 10.

Russia and U. S. Strive for Compromise On Palestine Split in Informal Parleys

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 4 (P)—Russia met privately with the United States, Canada and Guatemala here today to discuss conciliation of the opposed U. S.-Soviet views on implementing the proposed partition of Palestine. Russia joined the talks with the reservation that she could not make any compromise commitments at this stage.

The informal talks began after Russia and the United States agreed to participate in a four-power working group of a sub-committee of the United Nations assembly's 57-member special Palestine committee.

Venezuela and Canada had suggested that a committee composed of the U. S., Russia and Guatemala get together privately in an effort to reconcile American and Russian views on the partition of Palestine into sovereign Arab and Jewish countries. Canada then was invited to sit in when Canadian Delegate Lester B. Pearson indicated that he might have some suggestions for bringing the viewpoints of the big powers together.

In agreeing to discuss the possibility of compromise, Soviet Delegate Semen K. Tsarapkin said he did not object to a small working group provided it was informal. He emphasized that he could not make any commitments.

This ruled out any definite Russian concession in the four-member working group, but some delegates said some suggestions that would be forthcoming might be acceptable to the Soviet Union.

The main difference between the United States and Russia in their proposed plans is whether the General Assembly of the Security Council shall have jurisdiction over administration of Palestine during an interim period leading to partition.

Under the U. S. plan, the British mandate over Palestine would terminate simultaneously with the effective independence of the Arab and Jewish countries July 1, 1948.

The U. S. called for the U. N. assembly to maintain jurisdiction over the partitioning machinery, whereas the Russians requested an 11-nation Security Council commission to supervise this work.

The U. S. plan seeks to dispense with a transitional period between British withdrawal and independence.

The Russians demand termination of the British mandate Jan. 1, withdrawal of all British troops not

Girl Killed, 2 Hurt As Driver Falls Asleep

MONONGAHELA, Nov. 4 (P)—A 16-year old Monongahela High school junior was killed today and two classmates injured by an automobile whose driver told police he fell asleep at the wheel.

The car, driven by a Pittsburgh steelworker en route home from a Donora plant night shift, leaped a curb and careened over a sidewalk, striking the three girls.

Killed was Darlyne Bryner, who lived with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dias. The injured girls were Dorothy Castor, 16, and Mildred Smith, 15, both of Monongahela. All three suffered head injuries. The driver was held pending a coroner's investigation.

Winant Notes Reveal Roosevelt Opposed Seeking Third Term

BOSTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Memoirs of John Gilbert Winant say the late President Roosevelt displayed "cold anger" when Winant told him late in 1938 it was his duty to run for a third term.

The story is told in "Letter from Grosvenor Square"—a book just completed by the former ambassador to London, who shot and killed himself last night.

Publishers Houghton Mifflin company said the book would be out Nov. 18.

"I will always remember his cold anger when I told him that it was his duty to run for a third term," wrote Winant. "He answered very bluntly that he had done his part as a liberal and that some of the rest of us could share the burden of carrying forward the things we professed to believe."

Winant wrote that when he suggested to the President that he get by himself and think it over, he heard Roosevelt for the first time refer to his affliction by replying:

"You know, Gil, I can never be alone," and pointing out of the window of the executive office, he added, "I cannot even go out and walk alone under those trees. Always someone has to be with me or near me. I am never alone."

Winant's account is of the years just preceding the war and his term as ambassador.

In the introduction, Winant wrote:

"One of the deeper reasons for wanting to write is the growing disillusionment of today; which not only dims and obscures the present, but is trying to cloud the past. It has seemed to me that many people do not understand the urgency of these days."

Winant lauded Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister of Britain, writing:

"There has been a shallow acceptance among some people in the United States and a few in Great Britain that he was a Tory determined only to defend the British empire and was indifferent to the exploitation of dependent people."

"My own belief in him was based on the conviction that he was, in fact, an old-fashioned Whig. I believe if he had lived in the time of George III, he would have joined with Chatham, Fox and Burke in defense of the colonies against the King and Lord North. In our time he has fought to defend the rights of man."

Of Russia, Winant wrote this was the opinion shared by him and Britain's Anthony Eden:

"Great faith in the Russians as fighting allies and equal belief in their ultimate desire for a peaceful world."

Hope for Recovery Held For Accident Victim

James B. Goggins, 27, of Hildale, was "holding his own" last night in St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, where he is fighting to recuperate from an automobile accident early Sunday morning which took the life of his wife and niece.

He is suffering severe head injuries and has occasional lapses into unconsciousness, but physicians still believed that the young man would recover.

They said that he has not been told of the death of his wife, Rosie, or his one-year-old niece, Sandra Lee Chandler, of Childersburg, Ala.

Playground Area To Be Included in Home Development

A community playground and a small business center are two of the latest developments planned for Brookside Homes, Inc. when construction of the project begins next week. Earl M. Kerstetter, secretary-treasurer of Kerstetter and Veatch, Mt. Carmel builders, announced yesterday.

Kerstetter said the title search of the 20-acre plot has been completed and that final payment will be made today to Carroll L. Rutter, attorney for Ralph F. Schlachter, owner of the land.

"We are just about set to go," Kerstetter declared, "and we plan to start operations next week. We'll go ahead as fast as we can get labor and materials."

The Mt. Carmel firm has replotted the entire ground, he added, to provide space for a community playground and a small business center.

Bounded on the north by Prospect street, on the east by Adams street, on the south by Wilson street, and on the west by Washington street, the tract will be the size of more than 100 semi-detached homes to relieve the current housing shortage in Pottstown.

The development is being promoted by Kerstetter, Anthony L. Veatch, and John F. Molek, all of Mt. Carmel. Considering the cost of the land, construction, laying of sewers, and building of streets, it is estimated that the project will cost almost $1,000,000.

Britain and France each controls approximately one-third the area of Africa.

Rain Keeps Down Scout Attendance; Troop 2 Holds First Boxing Matches

Although a rainy night kept attendance below par, seven Boy Scout troops in the Pottstown area held meetings Monday night featuring or vigorous sports and plans for the future.

Revitalized Troop 2, meeting in Christ Episcopal church, laid final plans for its re-investiture of 13 tenderfoot scouts at next Monday's meeting, and staged the first boxing bouts among Jorouzh troops.

Assistant scoutmaster Alfred Yerger confessed he absorbed a beating in a two-round bout with Samuel Mauger, senior patrol leader, but Mauger outweighed Yerger by about 30 pounds.

Jimmy Chaplin engaged in two no-decision battles with Douglas Moser and James Takach, with Scoutmaster Walter Slichter as referee.

The boxing was staged without a regular ring, but scouts expected to make one in the near future. To prevent injury to the participants, it was decided to have two two-minute rounds, with direct blows to the face illegal.

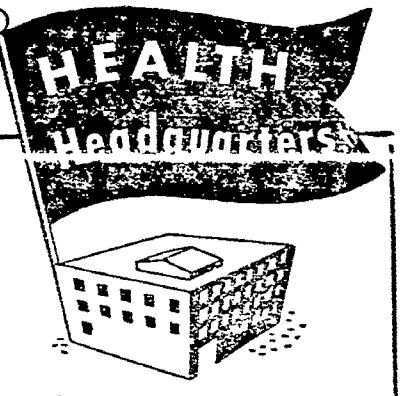

Troop 8's session was highlighted by games of swat tag and "Buck-Buck" — the latter a contest to see whether one team can dislodge from its back the other team, which meanwhile seeks to force the first team to the ground.

Although the tussles were hotly contested, acting scoutmaster Donald Fries said there were no casualties. "They like it rough," he added.

In a quieter vein, Martin Wambold passed his tenderfoot tests, and other test-passing sessions were held under the supervision of the junior leaders.

Parents and scouts of Troop 1 and 4 were invited to a "Parents Night" program to be held Friday night at 7 o'clock in the First Methodist church. Slides will be shown by Walter Hurt, Troop 1 scoutmaster, depicting activities at Philmont Scout ranch the past summer. The church is headquarters for Troop 4, while the program is being staged by Troop 1.

In addition to accepting this invitation, Troop 4 held instruction in first and second class tests supervised by Richard Spare and Joe...

Top Secret Papers

On Ku Klux Klan Stolen in Georgia

ATLANTA Oct. 4 (P)—Voluminous secret files on the Ku Klux Klan and the Columbians, containing names of "many prominent persons" involved in the race-baiting orders have been stolen from offices of the Georgia Law department, Attorney General Eugene Cook said today.

Cook said the secret data was removed from a locked cabinet during a series of raids on his offices within the past few months. Other highly important and confidential papers were either taken or examined he said, and desks were ransacked.

As attorney general, Cook led a successful court effort the past year to revoke the national charter of the Klan and the state charter of the brown-shirted, anti-Negro, anti-Jewish Columbians.

He said he kept "top secret" data compiled in State investigations of the organizations in separate files which were never removed from the office. Information in this "top secret" file involved personalities and was not germane to the State's civil case against the state officers, he said.

Separate files contained information assembled for the court attack on the two organizations. Cook said these files had not been stolen.

The attorney general said other missing papers included data compiled between the past January and March when rival governors claimed Georgia's executive seat.

Spring City Republicans Make Sweep Of Borough Offices in General Election

Spring City Republicans returned a majority of better than three to one to make a clean sweep at the election yesterday, both in the county and borough offices. The total vote for the borough was only 597.

The voters voted down the proposed amendment to increase the borough's State independence by a count of 130 to 76.

Three contests resulted in the voting for councilmanic seats. Clyde Keffer, Republican incumbent in the First ward, defeated Elwood Kern, Democrat, by a majority of 49 votes, the count being 82 to 33.

Charles Goshaw, Republican member in the Second ward, had no opposition, getting 69 votes. In the Third ward, Howard Barclay, Republican member of the council, polled 166 votes to win over Harry L. Bauman, Democrat, who was accorded a total of 54. The president of the council, Harry Lee, Republican, topped Thomas Murray, Democratic candidate, by 128 to 35.

Ralph Frederick, a borough auditor polled 478 votes to be re-elected. Warren S. Woodward, member of the school board, also was re-elected without opposition, receiving 465 votes. The four real estate assessors, Ronald Bradford, First ward; Harris Bickhart, Second ward; Arthur Westcott, Third ward, and Raymond Ortinger, Fourth ward, all were re-elected without opposition.

For Judge of election all Republican candidates also won their contests: First ward, Edgar Gerhart, Rep.; 87; Robert Keeley, Democrat, 27; Second ward, Cora H. Lincoln received a total vote of 91 votes on both tickets, having no opposition; Third ward, Howard Barclay, Rep., 166; Bessie Kern, Dem., 54; Fourth ward, Marjorie Ortinger, total of 181 on both tickets, winning without opposition.

Inspector of elections voting results were: First ward, Alexander Hunter, Republican, 85; Robert Keeley, Democrat, 28; Second ward, H. M. Littlefield, Republican, 67; Elizabeth Mannion, 24; Third ward, 24.

Crippled B-29 Lands Safely in Wheat Field

WILBUR, Wash., Nov. 4 (P)—A B-29 bomber with one engine afire landed safely in a wheat field two miles south of here today after at least five crew members parachuted through murky skies to the ground.

The pilot and co-pilot who brought the ship in were uninjured, but the only one of the parachutists found two hours after the landing suffered a severe head gash and a cut hand.

A widespread search was under way in a rugged sage and rock area for the other crew members.

The Spokane Army air field identified the pilot as Maj. D. H. Keller and the co-pilot as E. F. Arnold, both of Spokane.

New York Balloters Cast Huge Majority For Veterans' Bonus

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP) (Wednesday)—A $400,000,000 bonus for New York state's 1,600,000 veterans won approval by a tremendous margin in yesterday's off-year election while voters in New York City threw out proportional representation as the method of electing their councilmen.

Tabulation early today of returns from 8123 of the state's 9281 election districts showed 2,006,290 in favor of the bonus amendment and only 736,234 opposed.

The proposal, carrying the largest sum ever voted by a state to honor its servicemen, piled up the huge vote despite the 20 per cent state income tax hike and penny increase in the levy on each package of cigarettes which it carried with it. The amendment was backed by all political parties.

An 11-year tenure for proportional representation was ended by the metropolitan voters.

PR. fought by both Republicans and Democrats in the city campaign but supported by the minority parties, went down to a resounding defeat. The final official count in the city's 3757 districts was 936,464 for repeal, 586,743 against.

A system of election of one councilman from each of the metropolitan's 25 state Senate districts was substituted.

City Democratic chieftains including J. Edward Flynn, Bronx leader and former national chairman, and Frank J. Sampson, Tammany leader jubilantly hailed PR's repeal.

Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman, pointed to Democratic success statewide and in New York City, and declared "today's election definitely indicates a majority for President Truman in New York state in 1948."

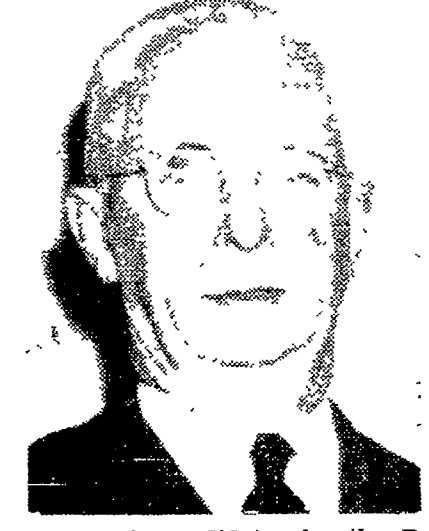

Upstate, the Democrats scored one of their biggest gains in Buffalo by winning control of the city council. They also ended GOP's mayoral control in Schenectady and five other cities, but the Republicans wrested the mayor's post from Democrats in nine cities.

There's No Theater; Movies Permitted

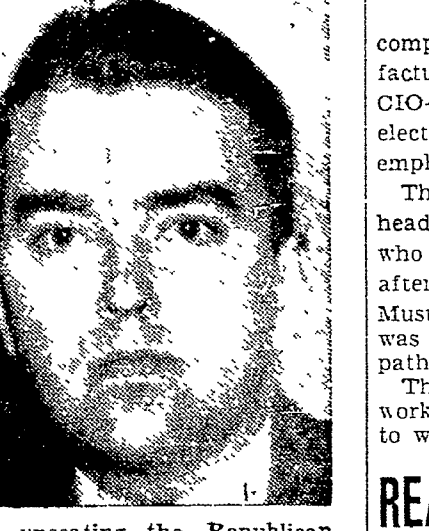

PARRYVILLE, Nov. 4 (AP)—Citizens of this small Carbon county community today voted to permit Sunday movies even though the town has no theater.

The vote was 58 for, 47 against.

Democrats Gain School Board Posts

Democratic candidates for the Pottstown school board were successful in unseating the Republican incumbents in yesterday's election. New members of the board are (left to right) H. C. Creswell, Earl Reidenouer and Victor J. Roberts.

Old, Young—They All Cast Ballots

Mary Lutz, of 227 South Washington street, the first to cast her ballot. Morris Herskowitz, 75, of 128 South Franklin street, was the oldest voter in the ward.

Old timers turned out in force at the Sixth ward polls, located at the East End club, which is claimed as the best adapted to voting in the borough.

Jacob Snell, 86, of 1145 Queen street; James Hennessey, 84, of 1159 South street, and Mrs. Rebecca Gray, 83, of 1000 Queen street, braved a chill day to go to the election booths.

J. Alfred Marquet, Democratic candidate for county controller, voted first in the Sixth ward.

After a slow, rain-impaired start, business at Ninth ward headquarters, the Krause and Ludwick garage on East Third street, got off to a good pace, with Hayden H. Bushey, of Stowe, surprising workers when he hobbled into the polls with the aid of a pair of canes.

Mrs. Alice Gumpert, of 269 North Manatwamy street, was the first Ninth ward voter.

Probably the worst equipped ward in town was the Tenth, located in an abandoned school building on Washington street north of Lincoln avenue.

There is no drinking water and the front door sticks so badly that George E. Lehr Jr., a watcher, commented, "You need a pull to get in and a push to get out."

Constable John Gerhart being ill, the polls were opened by Judge of Election Harold Casselberry, who welcomed Mrs. Helena Missiner, of 362 Beech street, as the first voter.

Oldest to vote in the Tenth ward was William B. Baker, 88, of 475 North Franklin street. Daniel Brunish cheered election board members by serving ice cream and cake.

It was an undaunted voter who was willing to wade through a small lake in front of Eighth ward headquarters yesterday morning.

It wasn't quite so bad in the afternoon when there was nothing but mud to contend with. At that time, voting became lively, with 90-year-old George Stout, of Spruce and East streets, the oldest to cast a ballot.

John W. Guest Jr., Republican committeeman, acted as judge of election, because of McHenry's ill health.

The Seventh ward polls on Grant street, between Walnut and Beech streets, were jammed yesterday afternoon, with 22 persons waiting outside at one time.

Workers predicted that the polling place would be changed to the Bethany Recreation center in the near future.

Samuel W. Bell, 82, of 649 Chestnut street, was the old-timer in the Seventh ward while Oswin Heist, 80, of 708 Walnut street, was runner-up in the age division.

Mrs. Ida Shney, of 931 Walnut street, a member of the election board, was easily the first to vote yesterday.

A veteran musician, Charles W. Strohl, 82, of King and Adams street was the oldest voter in the Fifth ward.

Miss Mae Purnell Republican committeewoman, cast the first ballot.

Herbert Gross, Eli Stauffer and Mrs. Ada Hartenstein, kept up the energies of the board with a supply of refreshments.

Second ward political leaders were the Good Samaritans in feeding their election board members yesterday. Councilmen E. B. Heck and William Romich, as well as Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, furnished the refreshments.

Thomas R. Shaner, 89, of North Penn street, was the most venerable voter in the ward, while Albert H. Mayers, of the YMCA, cast the first ballot.

The crowded streets of the West ward were even busier yesterday with workers' automobiles lugging their precious cargo of voters.

M. Y. Henriks, of 52 King street, was the oldest voter in the ward.

Voting in the West ward was spotty until the late afternoon, when voters descended on the booths in droves.

Blasting roars from the fire alarm atop borough hall startled voters heading to the polls shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

After signaling an almost perfect "31," the alarm blew wildly.

The trouble was traced to the West End Fire company in Stowe where firemen were installing a new alarm bell. Borough Electrician William H. Price said the fire fighters failed to jump the circuit before working on the installation.

Ailing Voter, 85, Taken To Polls in Wheelbarrow

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 (AP)—William T. Holman, 85, who suffered a stroke a month ago, didn't let his illness prevent him from being first in line to vote as he has been for 25 years, at his polling place today.

He had a neighbor trundle him, dressed in bathrobe and pajamas, from his home to the voting booth in a wheelbarrow.

Scheiner (R) 9988; Walter R. Hollinger (S) 8564.

School directors—Democrats: Robert E. Gehret, 12,292; Harold E. Guldin, 12,035; and Herbert J. Jones Jr., 12,141; Republican: Darrell O. Smith, 9971; Ouida P. McKenna, 10,128; and Warren L. Thomas, 9685; Socialist: Hazette Hoopes, 9493; Theodore Bricker, 8346; and Harry M. Longenecker, 8184.

Half of the bill was paid Oct. 16, but it was predicted that the remainder will be paid only upon the completion of technical details involving the sale, which may occupy Wells for the next few months.

An ordinance providing for the enforcement of one-way traffic on Queen street between Charlotte and Evans streets will be given its second reading tonight.

Another ordinance up for second reading is one that would vacate an alley on South street, from Franklin to Washington streets, for the use of the Holy Trinity Catholic club.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears is expected to make a report to the councilmen on the operation of the water department.

CHESTER COUNTY VOTES GOP BLOC

Republican Candidates Win by 3 to 1 Margin; Oakes Leads McMillan

WEST CHESTER, Nov. 5 (Wednesday)—Republican candidates for Chester county court-house row of offices were swept into office with a 3 to 1 or better edge yesterday in the general election on the basis of a complete count of the votes cast today.

The Republicans won every office. Only one contest engaged the interest of the voters. This was for the minor county commissioner'ship, in which two Democrats waged a nip and tuck battle.

George I. Oakes, West Chester, was leading his opponent, Howard McMillan, Kennebunk, in 85 of 133 county districts. The vote early this morning was:

Oakes 4180
McMillan 3855

Phoenixville voted in Sunday moves in an issue that engaged county-wide attention. Phoenixville proponents for Sunday moves cast 1247 ballots. Opposed were 1094.

Cottagesville voted on Sunday sports, and voted in favor of allowing athletics on the Sabbath. The vote there was: Yes, 1924, No, 1742.

Chester county's overwhelming Republican and nomination at the primaries is tantamount to election.

Upper Pottsgrove Offices Won by Republicans

From 139 ballots that were cast in Upper Pottsgrove, all Republican candidates were favored by an average margin of 80 to 59 votes.

Totals for local offices: For school director, 6 years Nicholas Theis (R), 80; Edward Meeker (D), 57.

For school director, 4 years: Edward Hughes (R & D), 79 and 58. For auditor: Rufus H. Boyer (R), 87; Meeker (D), 51.

For justice of the peace: Rufus H. Boyer (R & D), 79 and 55. For judge of elections: Christian Theis (R & D), 81 and 56.

For inspector of elections: Ann Wade (R), 77; Mae Henry (D), 59. As all county Republican candidates were favored easily, the only real contest was for minority commissioner, with Raymond K. Mensch edging Owen J. Keenan, 84 to 57 votes.

Local voters rejected the proposed amendment to the State constitution, 28-13 votes.

saving campaign is expected to make available.

"There is no hope that the present shortage will end with the 1948 harvest," Orr told the opening session of the world food council.

"Stocks are so low that even with a bumper cereal harvest in 1948 many countries may be forced to continue bread rationing through 1949. The shortage of fats and oils and livestock products will continue over a much longer period."

Meanwhile, fresh indications arose that President Truman's foreign aid program may touch off fierce congressional debate when the lawmakers return to Capitol Hill to receive his recommendations for both immediate stop-gap help to tide Western Europe over this winter and long-range assistance under the Marshall plan.

Senator White of Maine, the Republican floor leader, told a reporter he thinks GOP members will have "quite a few ideas of their own" when it comes to writing the multi-billion-dollar check for foreign relief.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has already said the total "bill" for 1948 should be limited to $4,500,000,000 or $5,000,000,000, whereas Government officials have estimated it will run from $6,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000, including perhaps $3,000,000,000 in outright gifts.

Acts AT ONCE to Relieve BRONCHIAL COUGHING

Republicans Take County, Local Posts In Norco Balloting

Republican candidates, both for Chester county and local offices, made a clean sweep in the three precincts of North Coventry township in yesterday's election, winning all races by more than a 2-1 majority.

The local results by precinct and totals:

For supervisor: William H. Williams (R) East precinct, 91; West, 84; Middle, 140, total 315. George Moyer (D) East, 53; West, 55; Middle, 74; total 182.

For auditor: W. E. Wampler (R) East, 101; West, 94; Middle, 146; total 341. Charles A. Fries (D) East, 42; West, 37; Middle, 67; total 146.

School directors: George W. Copeland (R) East, 97; West, 97; Middle, 156, total 350. George Copeland (D) East, 46; West, 36; Middle, 57; total 139.

Judge of elections: East, Martin D. Patterson (R & D), 102 and 41; West, Harry J. Shaner (R & D), 101 and 32; Middle, Arthur H. Essick (R), 158; W. Scott Haws (D), 55.

Inspector of elections: East, M. Ethel Keen (R) 87; Anna Miller (D) 57; West, J. Daniel Jones (R) 99; Thirza Hohe (D) 36; Middle, Mary H. Frankum (R) 157; W. Scott Haws (D) 55.

In voting for county offices, results ranged from the 348 votes polled by N. C. Kane, one of two Republican county commissioner candidates favored, to the 147 votes cast by Democrat J. Barton Rettew Jr., for district attorney.

OUTSIDER WRITER IN TRIESTE

TRIESTE, Nov. 4 (AP)—Arthur Brandel, Belgrade correspondent for the New York Times who was expelled from Yugoslavia by the government of Premier-Marshall Tito arrived today with his wife. The couple made the trip by train without escort.

STATE VOTE —

Diefenderfer, of Allentown, 17,945 to 9900.

At Erie, Democrat Sherman Hickey Jr., ousted Mayor Gale Ross, seeking re-election, 16,938 to 15,810. He will be Erie's first Democratic mayor in 12 years.

Titusville voters also ousted a Democratic mayor. C. C. Hampton, oil company employee, polled 1679 votes to 987 for Mayor Peter J. Hoening, Republican seeking re-election.

The amendment to increase the State's maximum emergency indebtedness from $1,000,000 to $30,000,000, trailing in the up-state vote, got a substantial boost toward approval in Philadelphia where a favorable majority of some 25,000 or more was indicated.

The vote with 2069 of the State's 8257 precincts:

For the amendment 59,607. Against the amendment 48,081.

Leaders of both major parties had supported the change and forecast its approval by the voters.

With all but one of Philadelphia's 1353 precincts reported, Samuel had 42,918 votes to 320,920 for Dilworth, who charged in more than 115 street-corner campaign speeches that the GOP organization is a "rotting machine."

Reports from across the Keystone State indicated that inclement weather kept the voters away from the polls in droves early in the day but that the voting picked up later in some places as skies cleared.

While politicians expected to find few 1948 presidential trends in the local elections, leaders of both parties emphasized their importance because of the advantage in the control of county courthouses and city halls in setting up for next year's campaign.

"Republican victories throughout Pennsylvania will go far creating the right kind of atmosphere for next year," commented Republican Governor James H. Duff.

PUPILS AT POLLS —

11 CREWMEN SAVED

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 4 (AP)—The ministry of the interior said tonight that 11 members of the crew of the 200-ton Chilean ship Alejandro which sank today off Porotos point had been saved by an unidentified passing ship. Four crewmen are missing.

Democrats Stage Close Upsets in South Coventry Vote

Two local Democrats scored upset wins in close balloting in South Coventry township yesterday.

Lawrence Bailey (D), former auditor, pulled ahead in the closing count to edge out Paul E. Loomis (R), for supervisor. Harry Clay Symons (D), young Ursinus professor, defeated John H. Rinehart (R), in the school board race.

In voting for Chester county offices Howard McMillan (D) was given a surprising plurality over his opponents for county commissioners.

Totals for local offices:

For supervisor, Loomis (R) 83; Bailey (D) 108.

For auditor: Helen Danner (R), 117; Marion C. Jones (D), 71.

For school board: Rinehart (R), 93; Symons (D), 98.

For justice of the peace: William S. Symons (R), 110; Albert Atkinson (D), 90.

For judge of elections: Jacob Scholl (R), 100; Charles W. Jared (D), 90.

For inspector of elections: Helen Shaner (R), 109; Edith Buckwalter (D), 82.

Totals in county commissioner race: Howard M. Way (R), 85; N. C. Kane (R), 84; George J. Oakes (D), 53; McMillan (D), 94; Daniel Evans (D), 1.

In all other contests for county posts, Republicans were favored by a nearly 2-1 margin.

Woman's Club Hears Doctor Speak On 'Mental Health'

"Mental health is a state of mind through which we may achieve maximum efficiency and the greatest happiness unhampered by habits and attitudes toward life that lead to various degrees of failure," said Dr. Arthur P. Noyes, superintendent of Norristown State hospital, in his address on "Mental Health" to the members of the Pottstown Woman's club last night in Library hall.

"Mental health requires emotions that are untroubled and satisfying, striving to be harmonious, companionship, love, work and play," said Dr. Noyes. "One person in 20 will at some time need mental help. Over 600 persons are now in hospitals. There are two types of mental disorders: organic, an increasing number of these people live longer and mental causes—neurosis and insanity.

He continued, "One third of visits to doctors are for ailments caused by emotional troubles. People are not able to meet the problems of living, yet the greatest work in the world is done by these sensitive people. Insanity is not considered hereditary, but persons in their youth can inherit unhealthy ideas and wrong solutions of problems."

"Physical defects can be a stimulus to success. Some persons wish to rise above the defect, but in others it causes resentment and brooding which in turn can develop into insanity," he added. "Mothers should not shelter children too much, for the children may not be able to meet and carry the problems of life."

The four new members welcomed by the group are Mrs. Fred A. Alteman, Mrs. S. Wagner Evans, Mrs. A. Emery Lord and Mrs. George W. Oberly.

Reports were given by Miss Erb on the recent Montgomery county meeting held in North Wales and Mrs. J. Aldus Seldomridge reported on the recent French Creek State park meeting.

The gathering of the Needlework guild was reported on by Mrs. Robert Frederick.

An urgent call for Gray Ladies was made. Persons interested are asked to call Mrs. Ephraim Keller, Mrs. Harry Neyenschen or Miss Erb.

Gifts were given to the Community Chest and to the Red Cross for Christmas kits.

The Book Review club will be on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. Adam F. Saylor. Mrs. Walter Merkel will review.

Marimba solos also were presented by Miss Doris Knause, accompanied by Miss Norma Jean Salzer.

Miss Edna Hutt Addresses BPW In Norristown

"Be careful! the life you save may be your own C sharp or B flat. To keep good health you must renovate yourself which calls for a strong mind and a strong will."

Miss Edna Hutt, a member of the State board of the Business and Professional Women's club, made this statement as she addressed the members at a recent district meeting in Norristown on health and safety.

"If youth in the home is to find an example there, if too many cocktails, cigarettes, slang and careless talk are the examples offered, then beware. Our youth, who are our coming citizens will follow suit and the hand that makes the ball rule the world," continued Miss Hutt.

Miss Hutt also told of the good work done by the Good Will Industries of America, of Milwaukee Wis., with two offices in Philadelphia and also of the Spastic Clinic working out of Philadelphia, which meets with afflicted persons of this type in Pottstown one day each week.

Mrs. Velma Eliegen president of the local BPW club was elected as an alternate delegate to the State convention in 1948 by the district.

Other local persons present at the meeting were Miss Helen Purnell and Mrs. Alice Nester.

Sammons Douglassville, and Mrs. Allan Moore led the devotions. The group also made plans for the Dec. 16th meeting.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S
Advice to the Lovelorn
A Woman Who Can't Forgive

SAD as it is when a wife has had to go through the grief of her husband's infidelity, there are times when one can't help wondering why some husbands ever stay home. There are a few so unselfish that their way of handling such a situation so foolish in their subconscient attitude toward it as to make one feel the erring husband is a long-suffering man indeed if he stays home and settles down. Such a wife I would say, have only themselves to blame if they drive their husbands right back into the arms of the women they recently left.

I use the one who tells her story in the following letter:

My husband and I have been married 10 years, she says, "and have three lovely children. We always prided ourselves on our ability to get along until I heard rumors about his running around with other women. And one night I actually saw him with one."

"Since then I have been so unhappy I just don't know what to do. I think I should leave him if I ever wish to get my pride back. But then again I must think of the children."

On the other hand, however it might be better for the children if we did separate, because I constantly bring up the subject and remind him of what he had done, and I know that is bad for the children. As hard as I try I can't forget it. It is constant on my mind. I am not even a good mother any more because I am always irritable and cross around the children, putting myself now for being tied down to them.

"My husband doesn't want a separation. He says he loves the children and me but that to me is almost impossible to believe. I just can't see how our marriage can ever mean anything again."

"He seldom leaves the house now but when he is at home he doesn't read and sleep he seems pretty much indifferent at home. He can't be so indifferent toward them and put them through such a scandal. I don't doubt but that he does love us in his selfish way. But he needs an eye-opener and I don't quite know how to give it to him without making a bad situation worse."

"He is very good to us financially but that girl is always between us. He says he never thinks of her."

except when I find her and that usually on something that seems to be over the top with her. Out now can I ever trust him again? Should I leave him and gain back my self-respect or live with him in this sorry way between me and him? I am sure I could get over it if I had a great deal more of pride and self-respect. I was content to bury the past and concentrate on making such a happy home for her husband and children that he would never want to leave."

As things are at present, this wife is sure, including herself in some home practically at the time an orgy of self-pity and resentment, making not only herself miserable but her husband and children miserable.

At Anniversary Party

Miss Vera Nancy Mentzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mentzer, 11 Walnut street, was hostess at a surprise birthday party recently in her home in honor of her 10th anniversary.

The celebrant received many lovely gifts. Games were played and prizes won by Jacqueline Marshall, Shirley Gabel, Lorraine Bohner, Anna Marie O'Bara, Lorraine Weidner, Rose Marie Bernardelli and Virginia Bohner.

A color scheme of pink and green was used as the decorations with a large birthday cake as the centerpiece.

Other guests present were Eileen Bridgman, Joan Mauger, Barbara Kells, Mrs. Fernie Marshall, Mrs. Anna O'Bara, Mrs. Francis Gabel and Mrs. Lillian Bernardelli.

A birthday dinner was held Sunday by her parents at which time she entertained guests from Lancaster and Millersville.

De-Icing Work at the Net

Hockey's here and the big leagues have begun their schedules. Bill Moe, of the Rangers, does a de-icing job at the net during a recent game in New York.

Big Boxing Show Scheduled In Reading Tomorrow Night

A double windup, both-encores, will feature Promoter Harry D. Weil's third indoor boxing card of the 1947-1948 season tomorrow night in the Reading Armory. Sharing the spotlight in the two co-starred eight-rounders will be Buddy Farrell, classy Newark, N. J., middleweight, who will take on Jimmy Hill, of Harrisburg, and Joe Brewer, undefeated Philadelphia welterweight, who will square off against George Hammond of Riverside, N. J.

A set of four four-round supporting scraps will round out the card in the show-opener. Dick Stern, Reading lightweight, will take on Tony Wolf, of Lebanon; Jerry Bertsch, Pottsville's fighting X-Marine, makes his Reading debut against Ray Haas, Harrisburg middleweight; Bruce Walters, Williamsport lightweight, will square off against Irish Jimmy Gallagher, of Camden. Ernie Drescher, Hershey middleweight, will meet an opponent still to be selected.

Hill won an unpopular decision over Farrell in their first meeting here the past April 11. Since, however, Farrell has fought a draw with Tommy Bell, No. 1 challenger for Sugar Ray Robinson's welterweight crown; outpointed Verne Lester, highly-regarded battler from San Francisco, and only last week decided Cecil Hudson, of Milwaukee, the world's third-ranking middleweight. In his only start since his victory over Farrell, Hill knocked out Jimmy Moore, of Chester, in

Golden Cubs Get Big Chance Friday to Become the First Unbeaten Team in Pottstown

By ELMER PANOC (Mercury Sports Editor)

Pottstown football fans are hungry for an undefeated grid team, and this Fall Coach Gene Kauler's Golden Cubs of Pottstown Junior High may give this Montgomery county community its first perfect grid season.

Kauler's Golden Cubs tangle with Ardmore Junior High Friday afternoon in the final game of the season and it is that game the Cubs must win to end a perfect year. Ardmore has spoiled quite a few grid seasons for Pottstown teams but the Cubs don't expect to lose to the Mainliners this year.

The Golden Cubs have turned back Phoenixville, 26-0; Coatesville, 20-0; Downingtown, 12-0; Rittenhouse, 18-6; and Bridgeport, 20-6. The past two games were the only ones in which the Cubs allowed touchdowns to be scored against them and those two six-pointers could be called gifts.

Rittenhouse scored a touchdown with the help of an intercepted pass early in the first period against the Cubs, and the Norristown team holds the honor of being the only grid eleven ever to lead Kauler's charges.

If Kauler's team should win Friday afternoon at Ardmore, it will be the first undefeated grid team in the history of Pottstown Junior High. In fact, if the Cubs are victorious they will enshrine their names in Pottstown history for being the first undefeated school team in Pottstown.

A check into the records reveals that no Pottstown High or Pottstown Junior High has ever finished a grid season with a perfect record.

The closest a Pottstown team has ever come to an unbeaten season was the past year when Coach Heeb Meyers' Trojans turned back eight opponents in a row before losing the annual Thanksgiving Day classic to Downingtown High.

If some local fans like to rate a team by comparative scores, here is a way you can pick Pottstown to beat Ardmore Friday afternoon.

Kauler revealed that he saw Ardmore play at Coatesville early in the season. The Mainliners dropped a 27-0 decision to the Baby Red Raiders that night, and about two weeks later, Coatesville dropped a 20-0 contest to the Golden Cubs.

Comparative scores show that Kauler's team should win easily, but the Golden Cubs mentor is preparing for this game as any team would prepare to meet its toughest foe for a championship. He isn't taking any chances of having the same thing happen to his team that happened to the Trojans a year ago.

The Cubs are preparing for this game seriously. All the players know how Ardmore spoiled a lot of good seasons for Pottstown teams and this is the year to even the score.

Many Pottstown followers are expected to make the trip to Ardmore Friday afternoon to watch the Cubs. At the Cubs' past three away games, the crowds have consisted mostly of Pottstown fans.

Three buses of Junior high students will make the trip along with the Pottstown school's band. The game is scheduled to start at 3:15 o'clock.

Kauler will say farewell to ten of his eleven starters Friday afternoon. Ten of the regulars are in ninth grade and will move into high school next year. The only regular who will be back next year will be Richard Weiser. Stan Chaplin, eighth grader who has seen a lot of action, will also return next year.

Kauler will lose Andy Kriczyk, Pete Steppe, Sam Green and Al Walton, all regulars from the 1946 team, and he will also say farewell to Paul Dittenhofer, Nick Shanta, Willie Walton, Dave Morris, Harry Hausman and Earl Decker. Morris, Hausman and Decker are playing their first year of organized football this year.

Boyerstown Harriers Whip Three Schools In Cross-Country

Taking a second, third, sixth, eighth and eleventh, the Boyerstown High school's undefeated cross-country runners chalked up their seventh consecutive victory without a defeat by whipping Birdsboro, Oley and Wyomissing in a conference meet yesterday at Wyomissing.

The Bears, coached by Francis Doc Sell, finished with 30 points. Birdsboro wound up second with 48 while Oley had 52 and Wyomissing was a poor fourth with a total of 80 points.

Richard Noll, Oley, was the winner of the race over the one and three quarter mile route. The Oley runner's time was 8 minutes and 43 seconds while Henry Zajac, Boyerstown, took second with 9 minutes 24 seconds.

Jimmy Houpp copped third place for the Bears while Earl Day was sixth and Jack Frain finished eighth. Bringing home the decisive point in eleventh place was Ronald Gabel.

Friday, the Bears participate in the districts at Gene Venzke's golf driving range.

SMU CLIMBS INTO 3D PLACE; PENN STILL 4TH

Notre Dame Takes 70 Point Lead; Texas Drops Into 8th Spot

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Notre Dame, hailed today as the No. 1 college football team in the country for the second consecutive week on the basis of betting from the Associated Press poll, faces its stiffest test of the campaign next Saturday when it engages Army's once beaten but still powerful Eleven.

The unbeaten and untied Irish, looking better with each game, were superb in sundering Navy 27-0 the past Saturday for their sixth straight victory. As a result, most of the experts hopped on the Irish bandwagon with 106 of the 186 voters selecting them as the No. 1 team.

Michigan, dethroned by the Irish a week ago, clung to second place by virtue of their 14-7 victory over Illinois in a game that kept the Wolverines on the bowl road. The Wolverines, who have scored 249 points in winning six straight, claimed 56 first place votes. Last week they collected 60 first place votes.

Southern Methodist, eighth a week ago, made the biggest climb, vaulting into third place by nosing out Texas, 14-13, in a Southwest thriller. The Mustangs picked up seven votes for first place. Penn polled five first place votes but finished fourth behind SMU, Southern California, Georgia Tech and Penn State ranked fifth, sixth and seventh respectively, the same positions they held last week. Strangely enough, the Nittany Lions failed to rise from seventh despite their 46-0 romp over Colgate.

Georgia Tech, gaining stature from their 7-0 triumph over previously undefeated Duke, received six calls as the top club. USC and Penn State, the only others to get top mention, were named as the best twice each.

The points margin over Michigan was not as convincing as the difference in their first place vote getting would seem to indicate. The Irish received 1731 points to 1661 for the Wolverines. Southern Methodist's point total was 1187, 51 more than Penn polled. Georgia Tech got 1041 points, the only other eleven to better the 1000 point total.

Penn State, 701; Texas 553; Army, 291 and Virginia, 248, completed the top ten list.

The point standings with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

NEGRO PITCHER ORDERED TO REPORT TO DODGER CAMP

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 4 (P)—Big Dan Bankhead, who found flash-in-the-pan prominence as the first Negro major league pitcher, said today he has received orders to report back to the Brooklyn Dodgers, "for Spring training anyhow."

Bankhead joined the Dodgers last August after Brooklyn President Branch Rickey saw him pitch an American Negro league game here. Beale street immediately acclaimed him as its "gift to baseball," then lowered its raucous voice when he fared rather badly and the Dodgers asked waivers on him just before the World Series.

None of the clubs bid for Bankhead so he went into the Series during one game—as a pinch base runner and scored.

A couple of days after signing with "Da Bums," Bankhead saw several innings of action against the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was blasted from the mound but salvaged something from his debut by hitting a home run. He worked in a number of other games with little success.

LESLIE O'CONNOR HARRY CHANDLER

Happy Chandler Lifts Suspension From O'Connor and White Sox as Chicago Club Pays $500 Fine

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (P)—The feud that raged for seven days between Leslie M. O'Connor, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, and A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, over the signing of a 17-year-old Chicago high school pitcher, ended today with O'Connor's "surrender."

The $500 fine imposed by Chandler was paid. Subsequently, Chandler lifted his suspension order denying the privileges of the major league rules and representation to the White Sox and O'Connor, whose offer to resign as general manager was refused by the club.

Peace in one of baseball's biggest jurisdictional controversies was negotiated by President Will Harridge of the American League.

Harridge, in a letter to the White Sox, urged the club to back down in its showdown with Chandler, and requested O'Connor, individually, to refrain from taking any legal action against Chandler, which O'Connor had threatened.

O'Connor, in a letter dated Nov. 4, replied that he would comply with the league's wishes and would

- have the club directors confirm that agreement. He further advised that the fine had been paid.
- The controversy started over the action of the White Sox in signing George Zoeterman, pupil of the Chicago Christian High school, a private school, to a 1948 contract.
- O'Connor contended that he had violated no rule since the rule as written by the major league executive council and the minor league committee has specifically provided that no student attending a high school which was a member of the National Federation of High School Athletic associations could be signed. Chandler interpreted the rule to include all high school athletes in the United States and Canada.
- The announcement of the settlement of the controversy was made in Harridge's offices, with O'Connor absent, after directors of the White Sox had met previously. O'Connor had submitted his resignation at the meeting of the board of directors, but they refused to accept it, and he was persuaded to continue in the club's services.

Zach Taylor Is Named as Browns' Pilot

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4 (P)—Herold (Muddy) Ruel was dismissed today as manager of the St. Louis Browns and Zach Taylor, former coach for the club, was named to a one-year contract, William O. Dewitt, Browns' general manager, said.

Ruel's dismissal was made public earlier today by club President Richard C. Muckerman who said director of the club will buy up his contract for next year because they were dissatisfied with his work.

Taylor, who served with the Pittsburgh Pirates the past year, was acting manager of the Browns for a brief period in 1946 before Ruel took over the job.

Ruel, who resigned as assistant to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler to take over the Browns' job a year ago, became the second consecutive manager to be fired at the halfway point after contracting for a two-year term.

The 51-year-old Ruel, a native of St. Louis, took issue with a statement by Muckerman that although the club finished last this year, the material on hand was sufficient for a first division team. Ruel declared he was "stunned" by the action, and added:

"Mr. Muckerman said he was disappointed in the showing of the club, and disappointed in my work. Well, I couldn't deny that the showing of the club disappointed all of us after we started the season in the cellar and trailed in that position throughout the American league race. I could not agree with the club owner on the second point—my own record."

"I felt her to a seventh place team, and I feel certain that the material was not on hand to improve the Browns' position."

Cars Are Damaged, Occupants Unhurt In Accidents Here

Halting suddenly after over-running the intersection at High and Adams streets, a car driven by Paul R. Clemens, Phoenixville, Pa., was rammed by a following car at 6:20 o'clock yesterday morning.

Clemens told Motor Patrolman Harold E. Hahn that he was driving east on High street when the accident occurred. He wanted to turn left into Adams street, but over-ran the intersection. As he stopped his car, he was rammed by a car driven by Harry H. Schaeffer, Reading, which was traveling behind him.

Schaeffer said he saw Clemens stop suddenly, but not in time to avoid the collision.

No one was injured, but the trunk, gas tank, and right rear fender of Clemens' car were damaged while Schaeffer's car had the front end pushed in and the left front wheel knocked off. Hahn estimated that almost $400 damage was done to both cars.

Two cars crashed head-on 100 feet from the intersection of Route 73 on Route 29 near Schwenkville yesterday morning as one of the vehicles swung around a utility truck parked on the highway.

State police of the Collegeville sub-station reported that the accident occurred at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, as Walter W. Cassel, Schwenkville, Pa., was traveling south on Route 29. As he passed an electric company's truck whose crew was repairing a transformer, he ran head-on into a car driven by Frederick Meyers, Schwenkville, Pa., traveling north on Route 29.

The complete front end of Meyers' car was damaged, while Cassel's car suffered only a damaged right front light. No one was injured.

Co-ed, 18, and Pilot Drown in Plane Crash

REDONDO BEACH, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—An 18-year-old co-ed and her pilot in a light airplane plunged to their deaths in the sea today while her brother watched helplessly from another plane.

The victims, presumably drowned when the plane sank quickly, were identified as Miss Natalie Siegel, student at the University of California at Los Angeles, and pilot Hugo J. Poppe of Los Angeles.

The brother, Roy Siegel, 21, was a passenger in a similar plane. He and his sister had rented the planes and were flying over the ocean while they photographed each other.

U. S. Bomber Found On Newfoundland Coast

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 4 (AP)—The burned wreckage of a United States bomber and the remains of its crew members were found on Newfoundland's east coast today. Identification discs were found but American officials here did not disclose the names or number of the crew members or when the plane had been lost.

Some officials expressed the belief the wreckage may have been that of a plane lost during the war.

Optimist Club Hears Talk on Labor Law

Elmer R. Rothenberger, personnel manager of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation, devoted most of his talk on labor and management problems to a discussion of the Taft-Hartley Labor bill, at a meeting of the Optimist club, last night in the Elks' home.

"The effect of the bill and of its workability will be seen in the future," Rothenberger declared, explaining that the law had not yet been subjected to any real test.

After explaining some of the features of the legislation, Rothenberger expressed the opinion that, if labor were in a position to know the bill thoroughly, it would be for it.

"The labor leaders don't want the men to know the bill," the personnel manager stated, adding that union leaders are on a campaign to turn their members' minds against the law without giving it a fair trial.

Twenty-one Optimists attended last night's meeting, over which Dr. A. A. Gallo, president, took charge.

Dedication of Road Near Zieglerville Planned Tomorrow

State and local officials will dedicate five miles of Route 29 that have been rebuilt between Gratersford and Zieglerville at ceremonies tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the new concrete bridge over Swamp creek, just south of Zieglerville.

End of the work on the two-lane macadam road that began the past March will be hailed by Lloyd Wood, Evansburg, State senator; Lloyd Stockpole, district officer of the state Highway department, and other officials.

The State project, which includes a half mile of concrete road approaching the new bridge, replaces the old five-mile stretch of road from Gratersford to Zieglerville. The stretch will be called Route 29, although formerly the section of road from Schwenkville to Zieglerville was a junction of Routes 29 and 73.

While the rebuilding was in progress, motorists going from Zieglerville to Schwenkville had to use a detour by way of Spring Mount, while those going from Schwenkville to Pottstown had to travel by way of Limerick.

After the dedication, a reception for officials and invited guests will be held in the Spring Mountain house.

In case of rain, ceremonies will be held in the J. Horace Landis High school, Schwenkville.

Very acid soils are likely to be deficient in magnesium.
